If extension cords are used at the PHBA World Championship Show, Ground Fault Circuit Interrupter Protection (GFCI) is recommended. The cord is sold at most building or electrical supply stores. These cords are easily recognized, as there is a test and reset button on the cord. Most of these cords have the words "GFCI protected" printed on the cord. All 120-volt extension cords shall be three wire grounding type cords (recognized by the three prongs plug on the end of the cord). Frayed or damaged cords may not be used. Extension cords may not be installed through doors. These recommendations will help eliminate harmful or fatal electrical hazards to you or your animals.
